DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the amendment filed on 11/26/2007.
2. Claims 1, 7 and 13 have been amended.
3. Claims 1, 3-8, 10-13 and 15-18 remain pending and now being allowed (re-numbered as claims 1-15).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. As Applicants amended the independent claims 1, 7 and 13, the closest cited prior art of Miller (Robert C. Miller, Lightweight Structure in Text, May 2002), taken alone or in combination, fails to teach or fairly suggest at least the feature of a method for developing source code including automatically maintaining a record of status of each respective source code statement, said record of status including, with respect to each of one or more said source code statements, whether the respective source code statement has been generated as a copy of a source code statement other than the respective source code statement and automatically determining whether one or more copies of said first source code statement exist within said source code file based on said status of each respective source code statement or including, with respect to each of one or more said source code statements, whether the respective source code statement has previously been verified by an automated verification process as conforming to a pre-defined set of source code requirements. As the Applicant points out Miller does not teach or otherwise render obvious the maintenance of

"status" information as now defined with respect to source code statements. Nor does Miller teach or disclose the user of such status information in an "automatically determining" step for either determining whether copies of a source code statement exist or for determining whether a source code statement has been previously verified. In as such manners as in each of independent claims 1, 7 and 13 and the dependent claims are allowable for at least the same reasons.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
